Car-Driver.

"Bob, lend me a dollar." "Certainly, Harry." And the money exchanged hands.

This conversation took place on Wednesday morning, at about eight o'clock. The borrower awoke yesterday morning without a cent, and the dollar he obtained paid for his breakfast. At ten o'clock he was worth $29,000.

Again the vagaries of a checkered career, the ups and downs of this strange life, the sudden and unexpected freak of fortune were exempliand other diseases of a malarial type exist as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It relieves constipation, liver disorders, rheumatism, kidney and bladder ailments with certainty and promptitude. A change, as gratifying as it is complete, soon takes place in the appearance, as well as in the sensation, of the wan and haggard invalid who uses this standard promoter of health and strength.

YEARS BY USE IN MAN THOUSAND CASES.

Harry Jones, the hero of this tale, is a man well-born, who has seen much of what there is to see in life, and has sounded nearly the entire gamut of human experiences. He has know what it is to have money and what is is to be "dead broke," and perhaps from a knowledge of the delights of the good things of this world, has enjoyed spending money as much as any one could. He is about forty years old now, and altogether his prospects at the outset in struggling for success and to make his mark were promising, founded upon his excellent education and brilliant talents, as well as energy and ambition. He came to this coast in early days and was ideatified with the exploration and development of Arizona, where many a legend is recounted in which he figured conspicuously. His friends are strong and loyal, and have always been so, notwithstanding the fact that he has fallen in the so cial scale and has been frequently poverty stricken.

For ten years he has been in Arizona, where every one knows him. He was a lawyer and acted as attorney for the Earp brothers when they were prosecuted for their murderous ex ploits in Cochise county, Ariz., two years ago. These Tombstone troubles are fresh in the minds of every one in California. Jones was intimately connected with them. The fued began in 1881, when Billy Clanton and Thomas McLowry lost their lives. The Earp brothers numbered five-James, Virgil, Wyatt, Morgan and Warren, and were pitted against the Claston and McLowry gangs. The original cause of the fight was a disjute over the spoils gained from a robbery of one of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s stages, near Tombstone. Murder followed upon murder, the most notorious being those of March, 1882, in which "Doe" Holliday, the renader, Sherman McMasters and "Texas five per cent., &c., will be added Jack" were the principal participant. JACOB HENKLE, Jack" were the principal participan'. Finally both gangs were broken up. Warren Earp came to San Francisco and ran a faro bank on Morton street until a short time ago, when he was raided and his place closed up. Jones hobnobbed with all the rounders. The Earps were gamblers and "shortcard" men, and the cowboys and Jones and the saloon keepers made a happy family. Harry was proud of his Southern blood, and seemed to be ever watching for some one to step on the tail of his coat.

Eight months ago Jones drifted up to this city. In many ways he was a wreck of his former self. He had ceased to practice law and had lost his grip. Through the influences of old acquaintances he obtained a position as driver on a bob-tail car on the Omnibus railroad, and up to to day he has held the ribbons over the fiery, untamed steed of that corporation and ESTABLISHED FOR THE SCIENTIFIC AND gazed wistfully upon the nickles that Speedy Cure of Chronic, Nervous and fell into the cash box, revolving in his mind the proposition of how he was to make his next stake. This morning when he got up the darkest hour had arrived, and he was obliged to go to work with an empty stomach and an empty pocket. At 8 o'clock he saw his friend Bob O'Reilly, who has had his high tides and bad luck himself, and the conversation at the head of this article ensued.

At 10 o'clock Jones went to O'Reilly and showed him a letter from New York city, which had brought him a thousand dollar check, and told him will not only afford immediate relief but per the news that his mother had just died, leaving $29,000 worth of property to her wayward son. He starts east this morning on the overland train with a new suit on his back to take possession of his inheritance.-S. F. Chronicle.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN.

There are many at the ages of thirty to six evacuations of the bladder, often accompanie by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and a weakening of the system in a manner the pa-tient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albun men will appear, or the color will be of a thi milkish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness.
